Procedural Change: It Is Now OK For Retailers To Share Ticket Stock

The Iowa Lottery has eliminated a long-standing requirement for the handling of ticket paper stock in retail locations.

While all ticket paper stock used in Iowa Lottery equipment must continue to be lottery-approved, it is now perfectly fine for retail locations to share paper stock for their lottery terminals and self-service kiosks. The paper stock no longer needs to be tracked, and individual rolls of paper are no longer assigned to particular businesses.

Technology updates have allowed additional identifying security features to be printed on lotto and InstaPlay tickets in Iowa as they are generated. Those new security codes have supplanted the need for serial numbers on the back of paper ticket stock in Iowa.

To help defray costs, the Iowa Lottery will continue to use through its existing supply of paper ticket stock with serialized numbers on the back until it is gone. But from an operations perspective, stores no longer need to worry about tracking the paper.

If a location runs out of ticket stock and wants to borrow a roll from a sister store, it is welcome to do that.

Scientific Games, which provides the Iowa Lottery's statewide gaming system, will remain the primary source of ticket paper stock. Retail locations should remember to order more paper before they run out.

Locations can order ticket stock by using their lottery terminal's "Special Functions" tab to generate a supply request or by calling Scientific Games at 1-800-858-4744.
